

Release Date: January 6, 2009

Los Angeles, CA and New York City, NY, January 6, 2009 – GLOBANET, an established leader in software and solutions for email archiving, announced today the newest offering of Globanet Data Conversion Services (DCS).

Globanet's Data Conversion Services offering provides specialized services and products to e-discovery and litigation support firms. Globanet utilizes its tools to provide a 24 hour turn-around for Bloomberg Collection, Blackberry, and many other data type conversion services.

Globanet's DCS offering allows firms worldwide to outsource the requirement of converting data into PST files and other data formats for litigation, search, and e-discovery purposes. Globanet utilizes its own proprietary tools as a service to provide firms a seamless method of converting this data for their customers.

Globanet has been providing compliance solutions for Law Firms and Financial Institutions since early 2000. From January 2008, Globanet has been approached by several litigation firms to provide conversion of Bloomberg and Blackberry data into PST files and other file formats for litigation purposes.

Prior to this announcement, Globanet partnered with a large law firm in the Northeast, having provided a wide range of services for the management of documents and their data in support of the litigation process, to provide Data Conversion Services for Bloomberg Data.

Globanet's immediate response time and accurate delivery of the data in custodian separated PST files has allowed this firm to continue to utilize Globanet's Data Conversion Services on a regular basis. In addition, Globanet has successfully provided this service to other litigation and e-discovery firms nationwide.

With a sharp increase in electronic auditing and e-discovery, the demand for data conversion services has increased. Globanet has met this demand by producing the necessary tool set, which, in addition to the most experienced team of engineers, has provided a proven and affordable service to market. Globanet has successfully deployed a 24 hour turn around service for firms worldwide to provide data conversion services to their customers.

For more information about DCS please contact sales@globanet.com, at (888) 427-5505, or visit Globanet's website: www.globanet.com.

About Globanet

Globanet is a software company specializing in archival solutions for the financial industry. Since 1999 Globanet has been a Symantec Enterprise Vault Partner* and has deployed some of the most comprehensive archival solutions in the world for the Fortune 500. An established industry leader, Globanet delivers sophisticated solutions with unrivaled experience and support.

*formerly KVS and Veritas.